VOLUNTARY REMEDIATION ACTION PROGRAM
AGREEMENT WITH THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Energy and Environment (DOEE) may permit a person, other than a responsible party, to remediate leaking underground storage tanks (LUST) sites in accordance with the provisions of 20 DCMR § 6212 provided that the person:

- (a) Intends to develop a LUST facility for personal or business reasons;
- (b) Intends to conduct a phased investigation of a LUST facility or site conditions; or
- (c) Is a neighboring property owner who is unable to obtain relief from the responsible party.

A person who wishes to voluntarily remediate shall submit a Voluntary Remediation Action Program application to DOEE and select one of the following options. Please check only one:

_____ The Voluntary Remediating Party (VRP) agrees to assume responsible party status and perform assessment and remediation as required under 20 DCMR Chapter 62. A “Responsible Party Transfer Letter” will be issued by this office). This shall authorize the VRP to take corrective action in place of a responsible party.

OR

_____ The VRP agrees to perform assessment and remediation, both on-site and off-site, as required under 20 DCMR Chapter 62. The VRP does not release the responsible party from previously incurred or potential future liability.

OR

_____ The VRP agrees to perform assessment and remediation on-site as required under 20 DCMR Chapter 62. The VRP does not release the responsible party from previously incurred or potential future liability, including responsibility for off-site migration of contaminants.

The VRP is liable for satisfactory completion of all correction action agreed upon with DOEE as per the provisions of Chapter 61 and 62.
